The CCIB is part of the new Diagonal Mar, an area on the coastline with more than 4,800 hotel rooms within walking distance, and a business and shopping centre. Over 500 metres of beach, a sports marina, promenades and parks provide this meeting place with an attractive leisure area where participants may enjoy their free time. The CCIB stands out for the divisibility of its spaces which makes them completely adaptable to all kinds of events. This versatility efficiently contributes to the success of small and large-scale event organisation.

MEETING ROOMS

The CCIB, Europe's most modern convention centre, comprises two spectacular interconnected buildings: the Convention Centre and the Forum Building. The Convention Centre offers a total surface area of 67,000 m², spread over 3 floors and 2 mezzanines. The main exhibition hall, on the ground floor, has a 11,340 m²/122,063 sq ft area totally free of columns. The first floor and the mezzanines have meeting rooms of every kind, from 34 m² to 2,584 m²/27,814 sq ft. The top floor has a magnificent banquet hall with fabulous sea views and a very large terrace, as well as other meeting rooms. The centre's adaptability and high-tech engineering allows clients to shape the venue to their exact needs. The Forum building, a remarkable, unmistakable architectural work and triangular construction with sides 180 metres long and 25 metres high, stands as if floating over the Forum square.

Fitted with the latest technological equipment, the Forum building has an outstanding auditorium with a capacity for 3,200 people. The two buildings are linked by a 1,673 m² underground walkway, that multiplies the CCIB's range of functional uses, offering one of the largest capacities in southern Europe.
